HEW Rejects Georgia's Desegregation Plan

In an official letter received by the Georgia Board of Regents on April 29, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) gave notice that Georgia's plan to desegregate the state's public colleges was still unacceptable and had to be revised again for resubmission by June 1.

This marked the second time in a year that HEW had rejected a Georgia plan and sent it back to the Board of Regents for revision. Nine other states also had their plans for desegregation turned down by HEW.

Dr. Henry Ashmore, president of Armstrong State College, commented Monday in an interview in the Savannah Morning News that he did not know what could be added to Armstrong's desegregation plan which was submitted to the Board of Regents in the fall.

Dr. Ashmore said Armstrong previously submitted a plan which outlined all of the information requested by HEW. Ashmore noted that the Board of Regents had condensed all individual plans of the state's colleges into one comprehensive plan for submission to HEW.

"The first time the state plan was turned down," Ashmore noted, "HEW remarked that Armstrong had given the type of information that was in line with what HEW wanted included in all states' plans."

Last week, HEW announced that the Georgia plans had been sent back, but revealed no specific reasons for this action. HEW's letter to the Regents on April 29 called for more specifics about timetables and other "critical actions."

"We believe the modifications we seek are attainable," Peter Holmes, director of the HEW Office of Civil Rights, said in a letter to University System Chancellor George Simpson, dated April 26. "If your plan deals with the critical actions, it will be accepted."

Holmes' letter called for more specifics on such matters as when the desegregation plan can be put into effect, when it can be completed, how much it will cost and how it will be monitored.

Explanatory letters asking for more information from the 30 institutions in the state's University System will be in the mail soon according to Harry Murphy, Regents public relations director.

Georgia is one of ten states where HEW has been ordered by a federal court to have an acceptable desegregation

BAM Attends West Georgia's Black Week

The ASC Black American Movement sponsored a trip to West Georgia College in Carrollton last weekend and some 23 ASC students, all members of BAM, attended.

Newly elected BAM president Maisha Shields said that perhaps the most beneficial part of the trip was seeing the "cooperation between the black and white students. Everyone we met on the campus was very friendly."

While in Carrollton the students participated in workshops, seminars, and social events. The workshops involved communications and other related topics. The workshops were conducted by teachers and advisors from West Georgia. Hosea Williams, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was also present but did not speak to any of the gatherings.

One of the speakers was Ofindio, a West Georgia professor from Nigeria. A representative from Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson's office also delivered a speech.

A presentation was also given by the Ebony Players, a theatrical group. The players presented an original play by Johnathan Thomas, a West Georgia student.

The activities were part of Black Awareness Week at West Georgia. A similar week is planned at Armstrong next year and Mrs. Shields hopes that BAM can "get the facilities and cooperation" of the local college community. All of the expenses of the event at West Georgia, except for some of the meals, were paid for out of West Georgia student activities money.

The ASC Black American Movement sponsored the trip through local projects, including a campus bake sale. The organization owes Savannah State College, for use of the college's bus, $133.

HAMILTON ELECTED TO SAC POST

DeWayne Hamilton, a twenty-three year old political science major, has been elected to the vice chairman post of the Student Advisory Council of the Georgia University System. Hamilton is presently a member of the ASC Senate in his capacity of Freshman Senator and was recently re-elected to the Senate as Political Science Senator.

The election was held Saturday, May 4, during the monthly meeting of SAC at the Armstrong State campus. Approximately forty-five student representatives from fifteen various Georgia institutes attended the meeting. Senator Ed Zipperer was the guest speaker at the weekend meeting. This was the first time ASC had hosted a SAC convention.

Hamilton will be serving as the newly elected chairman, Larry Abbott from Georgia Southern and Lenny Thomas, secretary, from

ASC SPRING FLING NOW IN PROGRESS

Activities began last night, Wednesday, May 8, for the 1974 ASC Spring Fling and Greek Week. The music, food, beer, fun and games will continue through this Saturday, May 11, according to Pat Talley, chairman of the committee.

A wide array of talent presentations and skit performances will be the fare of the day at 12:30 on May 9 as students and faculty members participate in the talent show portion of Spring Fling. Later tonight, as the Greek aspect this week continues, the seven campus fraternities will hold a banquet in the Memorial College Center.

Friday at 12:30 a field day begins as ASC students participate in several different events including frisbee throws, tricycle races and sack races. "Marshgrass" will perform later in the day in a lawn concert atmosphere and Friday's Spring Fling entertainment concludes with a free campus movie, "On The Waterfront." The movie begins at 8:00 p.m. in the new student center.

The week's activities are brought to a close on Saturday, May 11, as male or female, Greek or independent, take part in Pike's Beer Contest. Drinking begins at 3:00 p.m. at the Pike house on White Bluff road. A entrance fee of $2.00 will be charged to all participants.

Students interested in participating in the Spring Fling competition events can do so by contacting Dennis Pruitt in the Office of Student Activities or Pat Talley.

Haygood, Spence Receive Graduate Scholarships

Miss Twila Haygood and Miss Patricia Spence have recently been offered a scholarship and an assistantship, respectively, to further their college education on a master's level.

Twila Haygood, who is presently serving as President of the Honor Council and of Phi Alpha Theta, the honorary history fraternity, received a $3890 scholarship to attend Boston University. Miss Haygood will graduate this June with a Bachelors of Arts degree and will enter Boston University in fall of 1974 to continue her education in Afro-American Studies.

Patricia Spence, a twenty-three year old candidate for August graduation, has been offered an assistantship to Clemson University. The Ohio native is a member of Pi Mu Epsilon honorary fraternity and is treasurer of the Math Association at Armstrong. Miss Spence states that she will continue to study mathematics for her master's degree and that her responsibilities at Clemson will include teaching freshman math courses. Miss Spence comments for her master's department had been very helpful, especially Dr. Summer-ville."

EDITORIALS -

The After Six Corner

By BILL LIEBERMAN

It is the policy of the INKWELL to differentiate personal opinion and editorial opinion on this page by the use of by-lines and the lack of them respectively. A by-line is the name of the author of the article printed between the headline and the article. Any article with a by-line expresses the opinion of the author and does not necessarily express that of the INKWELL in general. Articles without by-lines express the opinion of the majority of the editorial staff.

Some people I have spoken to recently tell me that the TV shows have already gone into summer reruns and it's getting so you can't even change stations without tuning in a show you've already seen. Occasionally I get to watch the 7 a.m. TV news, or a 11:00 p.m. TV report, but I am not able to see anything in between. To me it seems that the TV news shows have been in reruns for the past twelve months. The cost of living keeps rising, gas shortages come and go, Henry Kissinger stays on the go, and now they have a new twist on the tapes. Having copies of the transcripts they can stage some real true-to-life soap operas for us to discover more than we may want to know about Watergate.

I don't know whether I am better or worse off for not being able to keep up with every phrase, comma, and expletive deleted. The case has not been tried and the verdict is not in, except for the analysis of some news analysts who pretend to know more than the Senate.

I won't be going to school during the summer quarter but if the TV offerings are going to be more of the same I can see why night school enrollment should double, or even triple.

The Vast Wasteland of TV is getting bigger but not better. It's a big help to Mom when she wants to keep the kids busy, and it does keep a lot of people company throughout even more reason to regret that TV is now and has been neglectful of its responsibilities.

There's a better day yet to come, and someday someone will invent something to replace TV altogether. Whatever it is, I hope it's not capable of showing reruns.

HELP!

BULL

By BUZZ JENKINS

I agree with several points brought out in the column "Our Condition". But a constant flow of negative criticism is the wrong approach in dealing with intelligent people. The last few articles of Our Condition has contained line after line of criticism pertaining to the every day man, his culture and society. When dealing with the common man, it is advisable to offer not only criticism but also guidelines and corrective measures to change the error of his ways. This idea is offering solutions has been completely left out of Our Condition.

Everyone knows that the common man is one who is drowning in his own apathy and has the indescribable ability to lure other people into his mire of impassivity and unconcern. The disease of being a common man is contagious and seems to have infected the majority of people in this country. These infected people must be cured. Those who still have not been contaminated must be inoculated for the sake of culture, society and their future generations.

The people of this country have been caught in a whirlwind of living. This loss for a purpose in life has led to the inevitable condition of forgetting how to enjoy this world. The mysterious drive and ambition to keep up with, overtake and be better than your neighbor has had appalling effects on society. Foremost among these effects is racial prejudice. This is an undeniable stain on humanity, its past, and probably its future. To restrict prejudice to racial problems is an injustice. Any man of normal intelligence can see how widespread and varied this problem can be. Man, through his involvement with a daily job and a plunge for worldly gains, has forgotten how to enjoy life and friends. There seems to be only one cure for stopping yourself and others from becoming classified as common. This cure is to educate yourself and society into understanding and practicing compassion, humility, modesty and any other words correlated with "Love."

Do not be afraid to become uncommon. Don't be a follower of trend and fashion when you can be a leader. Practicing love and understanding will lead to a better world for everyone to live in. Trying to lead this type of life would be difficult, but not impossible. A very close and personal friend of mine led a life of love and devotion. He was scorned and ridiculed for his beliefs, but he never wavered in the face of his enemies. People have tried to pattern their lives after his for many years. You probably know this friend of mine by many different names. The variety in nomenclature depends upon where you are from. I call him Jesus.

Letters To The Editors

Directed at Mr. Story

As I have read your column in the Inkwell, I see an increasing amount of pessimism. Is this really necessary? Today's world, in context with your views, is a veritable HELL. Ask yourself this question — Can anything be done to change this? Why, instead of pessimism can't we see a bit of the light in this darkness you describe? Instead of just plain criticism, lets have some CONSTRUCTIVE criticism. Oh, so this is a bit much work for the old noodle. Well lets think about it a bit and see what we can come up with.

Mrs. Hitt Talks At ASC

By JIM GOODWIN
Savannah Morning News
Staff Writer

Mrs. Mary Hitt of Jesup, candidate for lieutenant governor of Georgia this year, spoke to students at Armstrong State College Monday afternoon and pledged to work for the "little man and woman" of the state if elected to serve in Atlanta.

Quoting the Bible verse, "By their works ye shall know them," she answered students' questions during a student government senators' meeting while a small crowd of students gathered in hallways outside the meeting room.

She said she will be known by her works in the post if elected and her work will be for the "little" person. "I don't expect any big backers," she said in response to a student's question regarding her supporters in Savannah, and the statement that a bartender is supporting her bid for lieutenant governor.

Rehabilitation

"I believe in rehabilitation rather than incarceration of prisoners," she said.

"I've been pictured the very conservative candidate. I am, but I'm not as conservative as many think I am. I have a relative who has spent most of his life behind bars and I think Mary Hitt knows about corrections."

The former Jesup mayor told the ASC students she will call for a complete overhaul of the corrections system in Georgia and will push for, among other measures, the inclusion in correctional facilities of libraries.

And, she said, there is not a "nickel's worth of difference" between the drunken older person who raps a younger person for smoking marijuana and the younger person who does the smoking.

This she said in response to questions on "victimless" crimes. Many questions asked by students centered on pornography, book store closings, bar closing hours and blue laws.

Mrs. Hitt said she is "satisfied" with current blue laws and wants each week a "day of rest" set aside. Changing blue laws should, if the change comes, be the result of those interested working to change the law, she said. But she would not be one of them.

However, she said, she would "listen" to those interested in changing the laws.

Of adult book store closings, she said:

"I would be hesitant to close book stores. I believe in free enterprise and in having as much personal freedom as possible."

Armstrong Sponsors Chess Tournament

On May 18th and 19th, a five round Swiss style chess tournament will be held at the New Student Center at Armstrong which will be co-sponsored by the A.S.C. Chess Club and the Savannah Chess Club. The tournament will be directed by Dr. Raut.

The tournament will start at 9 A.M. on Saturday with three rounds being played the first day and two rounds being played the following day.

Two sections will be set up. One will be rated by the U.S. Chess Federation for people who have a national rating and the second section will be non-rated for those who have no rating or those who do not wish to play in the rated section.

The winner of the rated tournament will receive a cash prize and the non-rated winner will receive a trophy.

Students wishing to participate in the tournament may pay a preregistration fee of $1.00 to Dr. Pendexter or Mark Ricketts. Registration fee on the day of the tournament will be $1.50.

If such plans are not forthcoming, federal funds to the affected college systems will be cut off. The suit which brought the ruling was filed by the Legal Defense Fund of the NAACP, which could challenge any plans accepted by HEW.

"MS" Plans To Change Name

During fall quarter 1973 the women at Armstrong united under the name of "MS" The organization was formed to incorporate not only the operation return females but all females at ASC. The name "MS" has had a negative connotation to the organization, with many considering the movement bra-burning sign carriers. The group is planning to change its name in the hopes of projecting the active yet conservative attitude of the organization.

Friday, May 10, the women's organization will host Mr. Charles Tuggle a provisional teaching member of the International Transactional Analysis Association and employee of the Memorial Medical Center. The topic of Mr. Tuggle's speech will be "Transactional Analysis and Women".

Meeting, Track Meet Planned

INTRAMURAL NOTES

The first annual Women's Track and Field Day will be held Thursday, May 16th, at 3:30 P.M. in the area behind the gym. The events will be different, and should be very exciting. The events are as follows: (1) 60 yd. dash (2) 600 yd. run (3) 400 yd. baton relay (each of the 8 runners run 50 yds. each) (4) agility run (5) softball throw for accuracy and distance.

Of the 4 running events, one student is allowed to participate in 3. All participants can compete in the softball throw. Intramural points will be given but each organization is limited to 3 entries in any one event and one team in the relay.

The Mens Track Meet will be later this quarter at the Groves High School Track. The events will be shot put, high jump, broad jump, 100 yd. and 220 dash, 440 and 880 run, mile run, 440 and 880 yd. relay. Contact Coach Bedwell for date times.

There will be a meeting of all students interested in intramural sports at Armstrong State College, Tuesday, May 14th, 12:30 P.M. in the gym. This is not an intramural council meeting but a general meeting of "any and all" students for the purpose of discussing several proposed major changes in the program. All students who are able to attend at this time are urged to, especially students not attached to any recognized organization on campus.

The men's slo-pitch softball leagues ended with the "Wasps" winning the independent division and PKT the organization division. The double elimination tournament with all of the teams began Sunday, May 5th. The women's tourney begins next Sunday, May 12th, with all softball tournaments slated to wind up May 19th. All games are played at the Savannah Recreation Dept. diamonds at Eisenhower and Meridian fields.

The men and women's swim meet had the largest number of entries of any previous year. The finals were held May 6, 7, and 8th but results weren't available by press time.

Monday night is the night. Whaddaya mean What night?

Monday night is the night that the Armstrong State baseball Pirates go against the nationally ranked Georgia Southern Eagles at Grayson Stadium.

Monday night is also the night that the Savannah Braves play the Jacksonville Suns as part of a college-minor league doubleheader.

And Monday night is also Suds Night at Grayson Stadium when beer is flowing for 15c a cup.

It's Armstrong State College night at Grayson with all proceeds from advance ticket sales going to the Pirate baseball program.

Golf Team In SAC Tourney

The ASC golf team finished the regular season by taking second place in the Robins Air Force Base Invitational Tournament in Warner Robins last week and are now practicing for the South Atlantic Conference tourney to be played in Jekyll Island Sunday and Monday.

The Pirates lost only to Valdosta State in the RAFFB tournament to give them a season's record of 23-6. The only conference team that ASC has not beaten this year is Columbus and Pirate head coach Bobby Welch is picking the Cougars as the favorite at Jekyll. "We have a shot at winning it," said Welch, "but Columbus is extremely tough. They're the strongest in the conference. Of course Valdosta is tough too, but we have beaten them twice this season. I feel very sure that we'll be in the top three."

Chip Chambers, who Welch describes as being his "most consistent player this year" will be leading the team into Jekyll Island. Others who are going are Cody McCarthy, Jimmy Strickland, Bob MacLaurin, and Tom Carlyle. David Thornton will probably be going also, according to Welch, but he or one of the others could be replaced by Pat Brinson, depending on who does the best in practice this week.

Oh, does the Pirate baseball program need money?

Is the Pope Catholic?

It takes 7,000 dollars just for travel expenses, umpires, equipment, and guarantees to opponents. Take that from a budget of 7500 dollars and that leaves only 500 dollars for hamburgers when the team is on the road.

Tickets are just a buck, and I'd pay that just to watch the Eagles play. And you can still come out ahead by drinking a few beers.

Oh well, enough about economics; on to the game. The Pirates, now 23-11 after splitting a doubleheader with Southern Tech, lost to GSC when the two teams met earlier in Statesboro. But ASC head coach Tom Kinder says that the 13-2 score didn't tell the whole story.

"I think," says Kinder, "that our players realize now that we are capable of playing the same caliber of ball that they play." That's a pretty strong statement until you find out that only three runs separated the two teams until the eighth inning. The Eagles, incidentally, are ranked fourth in the nation with a 42-12 record.

Up at Grayson, Bob Lynn, the SavBraves general manager, is hoping for a good turnout because he has a genuine interest in the ASC baseball program and ASC sports in general.

"The Savannah Braves want to help the community and I believe that Armstrong not only is a great asset to the community as an institution, but also that the college has a tremendous athletic program that is very beneficial to the community."

"Furthermore," Lynn continued, "we feel that it is our duty because we are civic minded to have a night like this one. We feel that it will benefit both Armstrong and the Braves, because Armstrong gets the money from the advance ticket sales and it could generate an interest of the college community in the Savannah Braves. Also, some of the players now at Armstrong could get into the Braves organization in the future so we would in essence be helping ourselves with this night."

Kinder is also hoping for a good turnout of students Monday night, saying, "I'm very optimistic that we will have a good crowd there. I think most people know that they can help Armstrong's baseball team by coming and after all, what else can you do for a dollar these days? I mean two ballgames for one dollar is a good deal."

Tickets can be purchased at Grayson, the ASC Public Information Office, the Student Activities Office, the Athletic Department, from any baseball player, and at Sears.

Netters Take Conference Win

The Armstrong tennis team has come on strong at the last of the season and now has an 8-4 overall and 4-2 conference record.

The Pirates most recent victory came over Augusta College, a 7-2 win over the Jaguars at the ASC courts. Bill Toffey, who is the Pirates number one player, came out a slump to take his match with John Macnish, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2.

Hilary Buzas won her second singles match of the season with a 6-3, 6-2 win over Augusta's John Schnorbach. Vernon Hardy and Jack Everett were also victorious in singles competition for ASC.

Toffey and Everett combined to pick up a doubles win, as did Byrd Jones and Hardy, and Lane Nelson and Ms. Buzas.

"I was very pleased with the way the team played," said head coach O'Hara English after the Augusta match. "Bill really bounced back for us and I'm really proud of Hilary. It was total team effort that got us this win. This was a very important conference victory for us."
